BOLSHEVIKI HURLED BACK IN GREAT DISORDER

INJURY IS FATAL TO RAY CHAPMAN

Famous Cleveland Short-Stop Injured in Monday Game Dies After Operation.

Death May Seriously Affect Success of His Team Remainder of The Season

(By Associated Press)

New York, August 17.—Raymond Chapman, shortstop on the Cleveland American baseball team, who was hit on the head by a ball thrown by Pitcher Carl Mays, in yesterday's game with New York, died in a hospital here at 4:50 o'clock this morning.

He never regained consciousness after an operation which was hurriedly decided on shortly after midnight when a portion of his fractured skull was removed by surgeons.

News of his death cast gloom over the members of both teams, and the baseball world in general. Carl Mays was overcome with grief when the news was told to him.

The accident occurred at the outset of the fifth inning. Chapman was the first batter up and was hit by the first ball pitched. So terrific was the blow that the report of the impact caused spectators to think the ball had struck his bat.

Mays, who pitched the ball, acting under this impression, fielded the ball that rebounded half way to the pitcher's box and threw it to first in order to retire Chapman. Then it was observed Chapman had collapsed at the home plate.

Mays, in discussing the accident, said the ball he threw was a "sailor" one that breaks sharply on one side, due usually to a rough spot on the cover.

In baseball circles, it was believed Chapman's death would seriously hamper Cleveland's chances of capturing the American league pennant. Owing to the death of Chapman, today's game between Cleveland and the New York Americans has been postponed.

BASEBALL MEN ASK THAT MAYS BE DISBARRED

Pitcher Who Threw Ball Causing Death of Chapman Is Storm Center at Present Time.

(By Associated Press)

Boston, August 17.—Players of the Detroit and Boston Clubs of the American League today prepared to draw up a petition asking for the banishment from organized baseball of Carl Mays, of the New York Americans, whose pitch fractured the skull of Ray Chapman, Cleveland shortstop, in yesterday's game.

Probability that the members of both teams would refuse to play in any game in which Mays was the pitcher was expressed by many players.

Ty Cobb, the Detroit star, asserted that summary measures should be taken against Mays.

Mays has been a storm center of baseball controversy for years because of his close pitching as a result of which players frequently complained he had tried to "dust them off."

DONAHEY WANTS HICKORY CLUB METHODS USED

Takes Strong Stand For Tax Limitation and More Economy With Taxpayer's Dollar

Score's Legislature For Fostering Smith One Per Cent Law

(By Associated Press)

I session each week until my term ends, or until public sentiment compels them to honestly enforce the uniform rule or adopt some other equitable method of taxation that will make rich and poor pay alike," the present auditor declared.

"There is just one vital thing to do," he declared, "and it applies to local, as well as state governments; that is, for public officials to cut a hickory club and make a taxpayer's dollar buy just as much as the private citizen's dollar."

fostering the Smith one percent law, and asserting it was a direct violation of the Republican state platform of 1918, State Auditor A. V. Donahey, Democratic candidate for governor, today before the Democratic state convention here declared:

"Ohio must adopt a debt limitation as strong as iron bands that will limit the amount of public debt that can be created by public officials."

"The people residing in a taxing district, however," Donahey said, "should not be limited in the creation of public debt, provided a majority of the electors authorize it at a general election."

Taking taxation as the big issue of his address, Donahey made a spirited attack on efforts of the joint taxation committee of the legislature to enact relief measures.

"If I am elected governor of Ohio, and the General Assembly dodges the taxation question as the last two have, I will call them back in special

PLATFORM ADOPTED BY OHIO DEMOCRATS

COLUMBUS, OHIO, AUGUST 17.—(Associated Press)—The tentative draft of the platform presented to the Democratic state convention for adoption here today lauds the record of Governor Cox, thanks the National Democracy for nominating him for the presidency, urges the election to the governorship of A. V. Donahey on his business record as state auditor and pledges economy in state government and a more equal distribution of taxes.

"Confident of approval by a large majority of the electors of Ohio," the platform states, "we submit our splendid record of constructive accomplishment in state affairs and invite careful scrutiny by all citizens."

The platform further promises a thorough and efficient system of free education throughout the state; legislative enactment looking toward the conservation of natural resources; pledges state aid to encourage agriculture and to help labor and promises the workman compensation law shall be upheld.

HARDING RECORD SCORED BY COX

Governor Declares His Opponent Still Reactionary In Public Affairs.

(By Associated Press)

Columbus, O., August 17.—Senator Harding, the Republican presidential candidate today was again attacked as a "reactionary" by Governor Cox, his Democratic opponent.

In addressing the Ohio Democratic convention opening the local democracy's campaign, Governor Cox reviewed the contest he had in 1912 when he supported and Senator Harding opposed the new Ohio constitution.

"It has in considerable degree" said Governor Cox, "made the base upon which the presidential contest is being fought this year for the reason that the issue now as in the past is between progress and reason.

"More than that the candidates are taken from our own state and both candidates have been participants in the public affairs of the Commonwealth since 1912. In consequence of this the record in Ohio bears direct relation to the national campaign this year. Performance after all is the test, not words."

Governor Cox cited a statement by Senator Harding after adoption of the new constitution that meant "socialism and revolution."

"At every bend of the road," said Governor Cox, "we found him aligned with the opposition. To his credit, however," the Governor continued, "it must be stated that he believed he was right. The point is however, that he still believes in reaction and I still believe in progress."

One of the largest home funerals ever held in Washington was that of Mrs. Ashley Wood, held Monday afternoon at two o'clock. Born and raised in this community as the daughter of one of the sturdy old families, and a fine type of woman, held in high regard and affection by all who knew her, Mrs. Wood's friends had been legion and joined with a large number of relatives to show her farewell honor. The Daughters of Rebekah and the Women's Relief Corps both attended in a body and the full attendance of members and their unconcealed sorrow spoke eloquently of what Mrs. Wood's death meant to these orders.

The services, conducted by Rev. K. B. Alexander, of Grace Church assisted by Rev. Mitchell, of Jeffersonville, a former pastor were beautiful and rich in tribute. Rev. Mitchell opened them by reading the hymn, "Abide With Me" and prayer.

Rev. Alexander read the memoir and followed with a beautiful talk, based on the text, "I will lay me down in peace and sleep for the Lord maketh me to dwell in safety." The minister spoke of the wonderful home life, the welcome which awaited all who visited the home and the rare unselfishness of Mrs. Wood's life. He dwelt upon the peacefulness of her going, her perfect resignation, her trust and the evidence such a life gives of firm faith in God.

Rev. Mitchell supplemented this talk with brief remarks from his personal remembrance of Mrs. Wood as a faithful Christian woman, devoted wife and mother and offered much of comfort to the living.

The services were impressively closed by Rev. Alexander in reading

MEMOIR

Amanda A. Wood was born April 2nd, 1857 and passed into the eternal Kingdom August 3, 1920 aged 63 years 4 months and 11 days.

She belonged to one of Fayette County's pioneer families, the daughter of Obadiah and Elizabeth Zimmerman and born in the old Zimmerman homestead on the Prairie pike one of the residential landmarks of this section. Here she was married, March 11th, 1875, to Ashley Wood, the union a very happy one and blessed with two daughters, Iva Kellough and Clarabel Wood, who survive the beloved mother. There are also, Harold W. Kellough, the only grandchild, two brothers, John J. and James L. Zimmerman, and three half brothers, William, George and Fletcher Zimmerman. The son-in-law Jesse P. Kellough, was a son to her and nieces and nephews warmly included in her motherliness.

One of the kindest of neighbors and friends, Mrs. Wood was beyond anything else a home maker and no woman ever fulfilled more conscientiously the duties of a wife and a mother.

The ties of affection were especially close between the mother and daughter, Clarabel, remaining in the home.

Mrs. Wood was a devoted member of the M. E. Church and also a member of the W. R. C. and the Daughters of Rebekah.

After several years of ill health Mrs. Wood left the worn-out body to put on immortality. As quietly and beautifully as she had lived she slept peacefully through the transition, a bright smile upon her lips, her Christian faith triumphant and her last hours placing the cap upon the endearing memories which will be a rich legacy to her loved ones in the years to come.

Chicago, August 17.—Borrowing a book from the public library in one city and returning it to the library in the next town where he makes a stop may be arranged for the benefit of the travelling man.

The national council of traveling men's associations has appointed a committee to see what can be done along this line and has asked the American Library Association to appoint a similar committee to confer.

The library association, accepting the invitation, has just constituted its own committee. John Adams Lowe, vice-Librarian of the Brooklyn public library, is its chairman.

The Bolshevik Threat

Conditions in Europe seem to be growing more menacing each day.

Probably the most disquieting development of the past few days is the clear announcement of the plans of the Soviet forces and the fact that those plans involve Germany as a passive, if not actually an active, participant in the great movement of "red radicals."

The world has long regarded the Bolshevik disturbances in Russia, from the outbreak of anarchy during the world war, the dethronement of the Czar and the disintegration of mighty Russia, as a fighting force and as a commercial and agricultural nation, down to the present time, as of German creation. There has been little doubt among the nations that Germany was in sympathy with the Russian Bolsheviks and was, to a considerable extent, directing the movements of the Soviet government in its attack on organized society but the announcement of Bolshevik plans is the first definite proof.

The menace of an attack on France by the Bolsheviks afforded an unresisted passageway across Germany and with Warsaw in their control is a possibility which carries Europe again to the very precipice of war involving all the nations.

Germany may stand with civilization or, in desperation, with the hope of emerging from chaos once more a dominating force in Europe, may cast her lot with the Bolsheviks. If so another general European war seems certain. What the developments will bring to America is problematical.

Close The Mufflers

We have an ordinance in Washington placing the ban on open exhausts on automobile motors. It should be enforced against all alike, without fear or favor.

Not so very long ago we had the noisy automobile, within the city limits, pretty well under control and that control was brought about by an enforcement of the ordinance, the arrest of a few violators and the infliction of fines.

During this summer, however, discipline has been a little lax and the result is apparent in the bedlam created by automobiles racing through the city with mufflers open.

A good plan is for citizens to keep a sharp lookout for violators, take the number of the cars and report to the officers. Then justice should come swiftly.

One thing the officers can do and that is to put a stop to the roar and noise of racing motors in the business section and the violation by garage owners who make a work shop of the streets and try out "wide open" motors in the public streets. That certainly the officers can stop without any assistance from the citizens.

Coal Investigations

The individuals who are to conduct the investigation, on behalf of the federal government, into coal market conditions—supply and prices—have, within their grasp, a splendid opportunity to render real service to the public if they will fearlessly deal with the problem presented to them, casting into the discard all political considerations.

That there is no good reason why the home owners should be compelled to pay from ten to eleven dollars per ton for their coal is evident from the fact that it is not infrequent for coal, coming from the same section, to be sold for four dollars per ton and even less.

Consumers, both large and small, are paying for coal just what they are willing to be held up for and somewhere along the line from the miners to the coal dealers there is downright merciless robbery being committed.

Beyond question the majority of dealers, retail dealers we call them—the men who stand next to the ultimate consumer—would welcome the establishing of a fair price for coal.

Every honest dealer, and there are thousands of them, should join hands with the officials in any real attempt to stabilize prices.

The grave danger is that in the hurry to relieve conditions brought about by long neglect of official duty, the investigators, will only half do their work. Unless they begin with the intention to go straight through with their task, the investigators had better keep hands off. At least half the blame for present conditions in the coal market may be attributed to fool meddling by officials.

COX CAMPAIGN IS SLOW IN GETTING UNDER HEADWAY

Democratic Chiefs Seem Hardly To Realize Short Time Left

Nominee Goes About His Daily Business Almost in Routine Fashion.

BY MARK SULLIVAN
(Copyright 1920)

Columbus, O., August 17.—Your correspondent has lately spent several days at Dayton. In this contact with the Democratic candidate's home town, one was conscious of several marked impressions quite different from the preconceived ones based on the early and hasty newspaper dispatches that came out of Dayton immediately after the nomination.

As to some of these impressions, dealing with Cox's personal background, and with the attitude of Dayton toward him, one would rather wait for the maturing and confirming of the impressions before attempting to write them. But there is one quite definite impression which is shared by all other newspaper men with whom I have talked. Neither Cox nor those immediately around him nor the Democratic National Committee has yet waked up to the fact that they compose one-half of a great national campaign, and that more than one month of that campaign has already passed, and that less than three months remain.

Cox, so far, has done practically nothing towards adjusting himself to the enormously increased figure he now is in the nation, and neither Cox nor the National Committee has done anything towards surrounding the candidate with a machinery adequate to what is now expected of him.

Cox is so obviously competent a person in practical affairs that hardly any one would be so rash as to say that he doesn't yet realize what has happened to him. Nevertheless, it is a fact that the Democratic campaign so far has been conducted as if it were merely a local campaign for Governor.

Little Evidence of Change

No changes or additions have been made to the personnel around Cox in the way of additional secretaries or clerical help. His son-in-law, who is the executive head of his newspaper, now seems to devote a good deal of his time to the candidate's personal affairs, but that is about all that has been done towards preparing for the increased mail and the other multitudes of details that may be expected to pile up if the campaign is to be energetic.

You occasionally observe Cox himself telephoning about the time of trains and the like. His trips from Dayton to the places where he makes speeches are not organized with any more careful preparedness than if he were a private citizen. All in all, there is not in Dayton that air of many visitors of piles of telegrams and hurrying messengers that one is accustomed to associate with a candidate for the presidency.

In a way this lack of excitement is attractive, but it doesn't go with the kind of campaign that the Democratic National Committee must soon get under way if the full strength of the party is to be brought out for Cox in November. It is in marked contrast with Harding's home at Marion, where the secretarial and clerical help taken on for the campaign already fills one house and is about to overflow into another.

For the most part, probably, this lack of organized expansion is due to the change in the chairmanship of the Democratic National Committee and the fact that no new machine can possibly get under way as promptly as the old could have.

From the point of view of effective and business-like organization, the Republicans were much wiser in holding on to the chairman who had been in charge for the past two years.

Cox is Competent Man

As to Cox, himself, every impression you get is one of quick competence. All his friends and associates picture him as extremely aggressive, and his career would seem to prove that quality. His friends say that when he really gets going and puts his back to the campaign, he is the Douglas Fairbanks of politics. Nevertheless, any one who has been at Dayton recently must have wondered whether Cox has yet realized the huge proportions of the business of impressing his practically unknown personality on a hundred million people within the space of eighty days.

Cox undoubtedly has energy. Everybody says that of him. Whatever he wants he goes after aggressively, and generally he brings home the bacon. But for the purposes of the present campaign Cox has not

DEATH ANGEL COMES TO THE MOLLOY HOME

Mrs. Margaret Molloy passed peacefully away at her home on East Broadway Tuesday morning at four o'clock.

Mrs. Molloy had been in failing health for many years but it was not until three days ago that she suffered the attack which proved fatal.

Her indomitable courage in the face of severe suffering and her never failing cheerfulness endeared her to a host of friends in this community.

Mrs. Molloy is survived by three sons, Rev. M. T. Molloy, of Loveland; Dan, at Dayton, and Jerry at home, who surrounded her with every care and comfort in her declining years. In turn, the mother's whole interest and affection were centered in the home, making the family ties unusually strong.

Mrs. Molloy was a valued member of St. Colman's congregation from which church the funeral will be held Friday at 10 a.m.

GREAT MULDOON CLUB

TO MEET ATHLETICS

Another one of Cincinnati's strong semiprofessional baseball teams has been signed to play the Washington Athletics and next Sunday will bring to Sunnyside Park the Muldoons, one of the best independent teams in the state.

John C. Reuther, Secretary and Treasurer of the club, has forwarded to the local management his lineup for Sunday and states that his team is built around catcher Grote, who caught a fast game for the Athletics not many Sundays ago. Ryan, who is slated to do the pitching stunt, is from Verona, Ky., and it is expected that Jesse Tannehill, the Philly scout, will sign him for Philadelphia next year. Obermeyer, who is also a member of the pitching staff came back into the game recently with a great game at Troy, which he lost 1 to 0 in 10 innings.

In the infield and outfield the line-up includes a set of stars which would do credit to many league organizations. Mollenkamp, first base, is in business with his father, otherwise he could be playing professional ball. He is also the manager and is considered the best 1st baseman in Cincinnati. Myers at 2nd base was with the Goldens two years; Turk at short is small but can go get 'em; Shrimper, third baseman, is from Hamilton where he formerly played; Kauher, Bacon, and either Rung or Eifflein form the outfield in the order named.

Fans will remember Bacon as a pitcher who twirled for the L. B. Harrisons here several years ago and shut out the Athletics 4 to 0.

DEAR PETE:

Just blew into Pittsburgh to close that N and P purchase. While I was waiting for the contract to be signed who ambles in to the G. M.'s office but President Holt! Asked me if I had a cigarette. Slipped him my "Camel Garage." Remember, he hit the "straight" boys when I met him last year?

Pete, you ought to hear Mr. Holt talk Camels! Gee, I thought I was some Camel spiller. But he went right to the mat with the subject. Say, if I could have shorthanded that line of super-stuff I'd have the job writing Camel ads by noon today!

"Reynolds ought to get a dollar for every Camel cigarette," Mr. Holt declared. "Why, my boy, Camels are simply wonderful," he added. "Don't ever let anybody talk about mild cigarettes compared with Camels! I know! (Get that, Pete). I've proved it to a hundred smokers that Camels are the mellowest and most refreshing cigarette in the world," etc., etc.

Pete, Camels won Mr. Holt like they won me —on their quality! After hearing him cut loose, I felt like saying: "You tell it, old parcel post, I can't express it!"

Pete, I'm hatching an idea about Camels. I'll spill it your direction next time I write! It's what York State folks call a "piping!" And it's ripe!

Yours till the next fire-up.

OHIO STATE FAIR IS 70 YEARS OLD PLAN OBSERVANCE

By Associated Press

Columbus, O., August 17.—The Ohio State fair is 70 years old this year. Its anniversary is to be celebrated with more than a passing allusion at the coming exposition in Columbus for six days and nights, August 30 to September 4. Observance of the milestone will be expressed largely in the unprecedented size of the fair, its unusual education features, and the high class character of the amusements. An agricultural pageant in which 1,000 children will appear will symbolize the anniversary.

Secretary of Agriculture N. E. Shaw and Fair Manager E. V. Waiborn are preparing for the reception of the largest crowds that ever attended the fair. All other plans practically are complete. Every bit of exhibition space on the grounds has been reserved; it is announced, and scores of exhibitors were turned away because of lack of additional accommodation.

Premiums for the exposition total $115,000, representing substantial increases in every department, the largest sum ever offered by the Ohio fair. For the horse racing events, $15,500 has been set aside, and for these the assurance of a record-breaking number of splendid entries is given. An additional $6,000 is to be paid in prizes to winners in the horse show, which will be held each night.

Two of the outstanding livestock events are the $10,000 shorthorn show on Wednesday, with its many and various classifications, and the exhibition of the Eastern Percheron Breeders' Association, both of which are attracting nation-wide attention.

In addition to the daily horse racing, there will be the pageant and the fireworks display each evening, followed later by the Coliseum program, consisting of cattle parades, vaudeville acts, horse show and the auto polo games. On Saturday afternoon, the track will be turned over to automobile races, in which some of the best known drivers are expected to compete.

The stomach only partly digests the food we eat. The process is finished in the intestines where the food is mixed with bile from the liver.

It must be plain to any sensible person who realizes this, that the stomach, liver and bowels must work in harmony if digestive troubles are to be avoided and overcome.

This fact also explains why sufferers from indigestion, also suffer more or less from headaches, biliousness and constipation.

If you are one of the many unfortunate persons who cannot eat without suffering afterward, if you are constipated, have bilious spells, headaches, coated tongue, bad breath, variable appetite, are nervous, losing energy and feel weak, health clinging away take this advice and get a bottle of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) right today and start taking it.

Give it a trial for a week or two and just see how much better you feel. See how quickly your sluggish bowels will become as regular as clock work, how your coated tongue clears up, and your good, old-time appetite returns. You will find that only your food will digest and how your energy, "pop" and "ginger" revive. Just try it.

You take no risk whatever for Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) takes only two or three days to act, and twenty-five days, and it must help and benefit you to the very end. Your entire satisfaction, or money returned.

Five million boxes are used every year. Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) are taken by ailing people every day—that's the best proof of its merits. Nature's Remedy is the best, and safest that you can buy for biliousness, constipation, indigestion and similar complaints. It is sold guaranteed and recommended by your druggist.

SEEKING SERVICES OF LOCAL MINISTER

Compliment to the ability of Rev. William Boynton Gage has been paid him in two calls to other fields of service which he has received during the past ten days, according to word received by friends in this city from Aberdeen, North Dakota where Mr. Gage is spending a few weeks.

On Sunday August 8th, Rev. Gage delivered the sermon in the First Presbyterian Church of Aberdeen, the strongest Presbyterian church state, and following the service was tendered a call to the pastorate.

Sunday, August 15, while in St. Paul, Minn., Rev. Gage received a telegram from President Harry Gage of the Huron College at Huron, South Dakota, asking if he would accept the presidency of the institution. Dr. Harry Gage has resigned the presidency of the Huron College to accept a similar position at Coe College, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Summary of letter addressed to us from Mr. C. H. Mead, President of The Mead Pulp and Paper Company.

BUSINESS

The business of The Mead Pulp and Paper Company is the manufacture and sale of magazine paper.

PURPOSE OF THIS ISSUE

The purpose of this issue is to provide the funds to double the capacity of the mill and to provide additional working capital for handling the increased business.

HISTORY

The Mead Pulp and Paper Company was organized in 1905 and has been successfully engaged in the manufacture and sale of magazine paper from that time.

By sound and progressive management the business has been increased from 5,680 tons in 1906 to 18,500 tons in 1919. The mill has been kept in excellent condition and from time to time has been enlarged to take care of the increased business. After the present additions are completed, the output of the mill will be 45,000 tons per year.

DIVIDENDS

The Mead Pulp and Paper Company has an unbroken record of payments on its preferred stock and has paid for the last ten years a dividend rate of more than 8 percent on its common stock and in 1920 declared a 100 percent stock dividend.

SALES

The entire output of the mill has been contracted for, covering a period of the next ten years on a cost plus basis that will show earnings sufficient to pay attractive dividends on the common stock.

EQUITIES

As shown by the balance sheet, net tangible assets are over $350 per share of the preferred stock and $116 per share of the common stock outstanding and to be issued.

LOCATION

The mill is located at Chillicothe, Ohio, which is near the market for the product of the mill and where labor conditions are excellent.

RAW MATERIAL

Raw material is purchased in ample quantity as a by-product from nearby woodworking factories at a low cost, in addition to which the company owns a large acreage of woodland from which necessary pulp is obtained as a yearly crop.

STATEMENT OF THE PRESIDENT

The De Weese-Talbott Co.

Dayton, Ohio.

Gentlemen:

In compliance with your request I take pleasure in giving you the following information concerning The Mead Pulp and Paper Company.

The Mead Pulp and Paper Company was originally established in 1846, and has, for the past fourteen years been successfully operated by the present management—the third generation of the family. The present officers and directors are also interested in several other pulp and paper mill properties, thus insuring capable direction of this Company.

The mills are located at Chillicothe, Ohio, having a present daily capacity of 100 tons of pulp and paper. Improvements and additions have been made from time to time to maintain a high state of efficiency.

The paper consists solely of high-grade magazine paper, the product being limited to this one grade to reduce the cost of operation. Raw material is obtained in ample quantity as a by-product from nearby wood-working factories, in addition to which the company owns a large acreage of land from which necessary pulpwood is obtained as a yearly crop.

The plant includes a soda pulp mill, an important factor in the making of uniform paper, and in reducing the cost of production. Raw material is obtained in ample quantity as a by-product from nearby wood-working factories, in addition to which the company owns a large acreage of land from which necessary pulpwood is obtained as a yearly crop.

The proceeds of the present financing will be used to construct a new mill, doubling the present production and to provide the necessary working capital. The daily production will then be 150 tons of paper and 50 tons of pulp.

The new mill, as well as the old, is constructed of brick, concrete and steel, the present work being done under the direction of The Management, Engineering and Development Company, of Dayton, Ohio.

The location at Chillicothe is ideal. Ample transportation is provided by the Norfolk and Western and Baltimore and Ohio railroads for the finished product, as well as raw materials, the convenience of the location in this respect being felt particularly in the present traffic stringency.

Chillicothe provides excellent living conditions and an ample labor supply. The relations between the Company and its employees are particularly satisfactory, many of the employees having been with the company, and its immediate predecessors, more than twenty years.

Regular dividends have been paid on the Preferred Stock without exception, and for the last ten years more than 8 percent per annum on the Common Stock.

Fire-Proof Good-Looking Economical

Yes—have an artistic roof—but add a safety clause—fire-proof.

After all, it is a roof you are building and a roof has many responsibilities that all fall on the material you choose. Bad weather and changes of temperature bring repair bills and painting costs. Sparks from your chimney, or someone's burning house, may bring disaster.

So you must go further with the decision than to say just "fire-repellent shingles" because the fire-repellent shingles can burn. The Fire-Proof Shingles—Johns-Manville Transite Asbestos Shingles—will not. Add up all the requirements and put all the emphasis your mind can summon on the thought of fire safety. And you'll insist on Johns-Manville Transite Asbestos Shingles.

CHEESE MAKERS AND DAIRYMEN MUCH INTERESTED

(By Associated Press)

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O.—There are several small towns in Tuscarawas county whose inhabitants are alarmed at recent reports that the swiss cheese industry in Ohio is menaced by the great demand for milk in the large cities. A decline in the price of cheese is another factor which is viewed with concern by the cheese makers.

More than fifty cheese factories are located in this county and approximately 2,000,000 pounds of cheese are produced annually.

Each morning and evening, farmers for miles around drive to the roadside cheese house, where they sell their milk.

The milk and ingredients for making the cheese are carefully weighed and poured into shiny copper kettles, beneath which burns a big log fire.

When the mass has been cooked sufficiently, it is taken from the kettles and placed in moulds, the shape of the cheese of commerce.

It sounds simple and easy, but there is a great difference in cheese—and cheesemakers, also in the price they get for their product. A maker of the best cheese is soon known to the buyers, and he commands a far better price than the manufacturer who makes fair or good cheese.

It takes six months after a cheese is made to cure it for the market. Great stores of the product are always on hand at the factories going through the curing process, and as each cheese becomes "good" it is shipped to the market.

"GET THERE DAY" IS THE OPENER OF COUNTY FAIR

Fayette Fair Grounds Are Ready To Receive The Largest Crowds in the History of the Local Fair.

Washington Makes Ready To Entertain The Thousands Who Will Frequent City This Week.

Payette County's Twentieth Annual Fair opened Tuesday with great activities among those placing exhibits of live stock and goods and the motto of "Get There Day" was carried to the letter.

Although a portion of the exhibits had been placed on Monday live stock continued to come in Tuesday all day and the exhibits of perishable goods, such as the fruits and pastries were arranged in the Exhibit Hall.

For their final workouts preceding the races the track horses went through their work Tuesday and were groomed for the first races Wednesday afternoon.

There was no admission charged at the gate and only a scattering few were on the grounds during the day. No places of amusement were open and there was no music. A deputized policeman was on guard Monday night and Tuesday to see that nothing was bothered and he will be kept on the grounds during the remainder of the week.

When everything was in shape for the real opening day on Wednesday, Secretary G. H. Hitchcock of the Fair Board announced that indications point to three of the biggest days in the history of the fair in this country. He mentioned that the attendance during the three days would probably average greater than any previous three days. His reason for this optimistic prediction was based on reports from the surrounding fairs where attendance records this year have been smashed.

Hotels in this city Monday were filling with people from other parts of the state who were following the fairs in some capacity.

All restaurants and ice cream parlors have made preparations to care for the crowds with enormous amounts of supplies and by adding to their working forces.

In order to entertain the crowds which will remain in the city during the week Oak Lawn will be open each evening and with the big pavilion thrown open for dancing. The regular band concert will be given on Friday evenings by Whelby's Band which will conclude playing during fair time on that evening.

CHASE SPOKE IN THIS CITY 63 YEARS AGO

On August 17th, 1857—sixty-three years ago the Ohio State Journal published the following news item which is of interest to local citizens:

"It is arranged that Governor Chase and others will address the people at the following places: Washington, Fayette County, on the 19th; Groveport on the 22nd; London, Madison County, on the 29th.

"Governor Chase also will attend the ratification meeting at Cincinnati on the 26th."

In those days an address by the Governor of the States, in the rural communities was an event. We were not able, sixty-three years ago, to travel about to every section by steam cars, electric cars or automobiles as we are today.

We would all like to see that scene sixty-three years ago when Governor Chase addressed the people but they had no "movie" cameras either in those days. We should like to hear Governor Chase's voice as he spoke to the people of Fayette county sixty-three years ago, but they had no phonographs in those days as we have now.

Sixty-three years hence or descendants will be able to see how we moved about in the great meetings and they will be able to hear the voices of our great men.

Now all we have of sixty-three years ago is the good old "State Journal."

RARE SPECIMAN OF ANCIENT PIPE

No finer specimen of moundbuilder art has ever been found than a pipe carved in shape to represent a pheasant, recently unearthed at the "Mound City" site at Camp Sherman. Dr. W. C. Mills, curator of the Ohio State Archaeological Museum, who is directing the exploration of the Mound City group with a force headed by Pennsylvania, New York and Ohio scientists, states that he has never seen anything like it in all his research work.

Eight very fine stone pipes have been uncovered during the course of the excavation work which has been in progress now for two months. Digging on the fifteen foot mound which is the largest and most imposing one of the group has begun. Many pipes, trinkets and bone ornaments have been found thus far. Three skeletons have been dug up and evidence of over 30 cremations have been discovered. The eight fine pipes above mentioned were found near a place where a cremation had taken place. They are of gray colored stone and are carved to represent birds and animals.—Chillicothe News.

PURITAN

The powerful, smooth-running motor is in itself an achievement. It contains a smaller number of parts than any other spring motor, and the old time bevel-gear, with its wasteful friction, is eliminated. All the power is delivered to the turn-table spindle, where it is needed. The PURITAN Motor has a new system of lubrication that reduces the annoyance of spring breakage and upkeep.

The new PURITAN Reproducer, which can be used only on the PURITAN phonograph, is so sensitive that it accommodates itself to the vibration from ANY MAKE OF DISC RECORD and needs no special attachments to do it. This means that the public can have the best results from any record if you have a PURITAN phonograph to play it. Read carefully these special

Features of Puritan Construction

TONE CONTROL—Convenient and adjustable.

TONE ARM—Universal. Plays all makes of disc records without the use of additional devices.

TONE QUALITY—Responds to the faintest and most delicate tones or sounds, and embodies the refinements of all the processes of sound reproduction.

CABINET WORK AND DESIGN—Puritan Cabinets are exquisitely designed and finished. They are the masterpiece of long-trained cabinet makers in our own factory.

SOUND BOX—This assists in the reproduction of the tone qualities in all their sweetness and clearness.

AUTOMATIC STOP—This attachment is most simple in construction and is unfailing in its service.

MOTOR—The motor, like every other part of the Puritan, is made in our own factory. It moves with the utmost smoothness and winds and unwinds easily and noiselessly.

RECORD EJECTOR—This is one of the big conveniences of the Puritan. As you lower the door, the cabinet ejects out, making it very accessible for selection or replacement of records. The index system is a special feature.

HORN—This sound amplifier is distinctive with the Puritan. Shaped somewhat like an organ pipe, it gives refined expression to all sound reproductions. The long horn extends down through the entire length of the cabinet. It opens up like a full-throated trumpet.

The effect of the Long Horn is to purify and enrich the tone, so that the musical effect is practically identical with the original.

It receives the faintest vibrations from the record, so that the finest strains of the violin or the human voice are reproduced with marvelous clearness and fidelity.

The PURITAN Soundbox is a combination of mechanism, yet a fortune has been spent in bringing it to its state of perfection.

Only the sound waves registered on the record are transmitted through the Long Horn all other vibrations being eliminated by this device.

I SUFFERED THREE YEARS

Finally was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lowell, Mass.—I was all run down and had an awful pain in my right side, was persistently constipated and had very dizzy spells. I suffered for three years and was perfectly miserable until a friend was telling me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I found it a wonderful medicine. I can now do twice as much work and I recommend the Vegetable Compound to other women. You can use these facts as a testimonial.—Mrs. M. THEALL BESSEY, 46 Chestnut St., Lowell, Mass.

Why women will continue to suffer so long is more than we can understand, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound!

For forty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

KNIGHTS HOLD FIRST ANNUAL HOME-COMING

More than three hundred persons attended the First Annual Picnic and Homecoming of the Sunflower Lodge Knights of Pythias, held in the Frank Marshall grove about one mile west of Jeffersonville Monday afternoon.

The Knights were assisted in the hospitalities by the Pythian Sisters and the families of both orders had been invited. Many lodge people from this city, Springfield and Sedalia, were in attendance. Marshall's band furnished music during the afternoon.

Due to the success of the affair and the interest created among the Pythian orders the vote is unanimous in favor of the Second Annual Picnic and Homecoming next year and even more expensive plans will be made.

When the crowd had gathered at one o'clock in the Marshall Grove the first thing on the program for the entertainment of the lookers and the participants was the field and track events in charge of Glenn H. Brock and G. Marshall.

In a hotly contested horseshoe pitching contest Frank Marshall won the prize and he was also first in the high jump. Marshall has been taking the high jump in all picnic field meets and won first in this event at the Fish and Game Picnic not long ago.

Gilbert Marshall, brother of the winner of the high jump, took first in the pole vault.

There was great interest displayed in the trap shooting in charge of Roy Dill and in the rifle shoot conducted by Almer Robinson.

The Knights who did not take part in the field events satisfied themselves with a tug of war.

Two fast ball games, for which the roosters had been divided in two equal groups were played during the afternoon.

Probably the one on whose outcome there was greatest speculation was between the "fat ladies" and the "lean ladies." In hard playing the heavy side won out by a score of 19 to 10.

Real baseball was furnished in the game between the Whitehead Giants, captained by Dr. Whitehead, a Jeffersonville dentist, and the Marshall Sluggers, captained by Frank Marshall.

The regulation nine innings were played and the score was tied in several innings, the Sluggers finally annexing the one run that won for them 10 to 9. Battery for the Slugger was Dorn and G. Marshall and for the Giants, Whitehead and Ensign.

After an afternoon filled with something doing every minute the neglected appetites of the picnickers told that the end of the day was approaching and every one lent a hand in spreading fried chicken, sandwiches, cake and great quantities of other picnic features on a long table. Equipped with plate, knife, fork and spoon, the crowd was lined up and passed in front of the table in the regulation cafeteria style. Such quantities of eatables had been prepared that all were asked to pass twice before the servers. Twenty gallons of ice cream completed the menu.

HEAVY PROSPECTS FOR FOOTBALL TEAM

With the first of September drawing to within hailing distance prospects for a foot ball team in Washington High School are being discussed and summed up both by the fans and the players themselves.

Word comes from Tommy Rogers, captain-elect whose home is in Wilmington but who still claims allegiance to the Blue and White, that he will be on hand at the first of the season and ready to lead the squad in practice. Just where Rogers will play is in doubt for he is a crack quarterback and of equal rank as a halfback.

Washington's line this year is expected to rank with the invincible defense of last season and will have a high average in avoidups. Coach Moorehead will find plenty of line material from which to choose with such men as Willard Perrill, John Deen, "Big Bud" Thompson, Hiram Hitchcock, and Lynch and others who starred last year, ready to slip back into the harness.

During the last few days there has been a general survey of lockers at the Y. M. C. A. and wardrobes at home for the moleskins discarded last year.
